Welcome to the first issue of the RdC E-news

After a very hectic first half of 2008, RdC is launching into spring with a brand new website and the most exciting part is you can now shop online!! Yes ONLINE!!

Myself and Lanie Phelps have been traveling around Australia (feeling like rock stars more than Makeup Artists!!) styling over 100 contestants (yes I did say 100!) for the 'Search for a Plus size Model' national competition. Gary Dakin, from FORD+ Models NY was in Sydney to judge the finals along with myself. You can view all the pictures and heats from each states on our website link in 'services/hair and makeup' and view all the footage on youtube.com city chic videos. We also have for the first time chosen one of the gorgeous 10 finalist Tash, to be the first official Face of RdC. So keep a look out for her on the website.

As for the latest in Makeup, everyone loves our new duo glosses, they are sure to brighten up any winter blues you may have! With exquisite names such as champagne lace, summer daze along with the infusion of flavors such as chocolate, melon and strawberry, make sure you have one handy at all times!

Spring/Summer 2008 fast approaches and we are already planning for an exciting 2009 with new product launches, some celebrity visits and lots more.

Stay tuned for more E-news and don't forget to get on line and SHOP! SHOP! SHOP!!

Rd C the official Hair and Makeup Sponsor for the national competition, traveled all over the country searching for Australia's first plus size model and also the first official Face of RdC. Gary Dakin from the world's most famous modeling agency who launched the gorgeous Christie Brinkley's career rubbed shoulders with Rose d Carbone and Lanie Phelps on a star studded VIP event held at The Argyle in Sydney. Also, a special thanks to the hair and makeup artists from The makeup technicians college in Sydney who assisted us on the Parramatta and Liverpool heats in Sydney.
